(2) Please discuss your choices with supervisors/staff of the departments before adding/dropping courses

3. Course Selection Instructions :

(1) The probability of being offered a place on a selected course at each stage is the same.

"First-come, first-serve" mechanism is not used on the system. There is no urgency to get online at the beginning of each stage. To avoid overloading the website, please check codes for all courses before the selection. There are two steps involved in each course selection stage. When adding courses at the course selection stage, please confirm the result on the website after the announcement is made. The system will immediately release an offering place when a course is dropped. If a course is dropped by mistake, it needs to be selected again online and a place will be reallocated according to the priority order.

(2) After "Add courses" :

A. Register courses: Students must check if a course registration is successful after result announcements are made on the website.

B. List of unsuccessfully added/dropped courses: Unsuccessful course registrations. Selections need to be made again according to the instructions.

C. Timetable clashes: Multiple choices can be made for the same time slot. The system will provide a result based on personal preferences. If the result clashes with a pre-assigned and confirmed course, the confirmed course will be deemed as the final result.

(3) The system will delete the choice once a course is dropped. If a course is dropped by mistake, it needs to be selected again online and a place will be reallocated according to the priority order
【5. Priority Order for Course Selection】

(4) If not intending to take courses that are being pre-assigned or successful course registration at preliminary selection and add/drop courses stages due to issues regarding course waivers, prerequisite courses, course retake (already completed), students should take initiative to drop their selection. If the student fails to do so, it will be regarded as "voluntarily select the course for the semester".

(5) Failing to attend a confirmed and pre-assigned required course or courses that were offered a place at any given stage for more than 2 weeks (starting from the deadline of the add/drop course, excluding holidays) will result in the student being dropped from the course by the department or the course instructor. A formal notification will be issued and no appeal will be accepted.

- (6) Only students of Middleschool Education Program have the option to select courses at preliminary selection stage 2. All students are allowed to make selection at add/drop courses stage. Credit fees are payable for the course.

Please visit the website for your own course selection records. No change can be made after the deadline.
- (10) On the page of 【Current course inquiry】 at the Course Selection System, the displayed number in the "selection no" box represents the number of students who have selected the course but have not been placed. Before selecting a course, please check the number first. When the course click number exceeds allowed numbers for the course, please assess the possibility for a successful registration to avoid disappointment.
- (11) Course selection should be made according to individual interests and schedules. Do not limit your choice to a specific faculty member to avoid any negative impact on your study and graduation.
- (12) Be aware of the course requirements before making a choice. Priority is given to those who have not taken the course before.
