Article 1. These guidelines are established for the purpose of appropriate calculation of the university's teachers' teaching hours and overtime hours; this shall be compliant with rules stipulated in Article 18 of the University Law.

Article 2. The working hours for full-time teachers shall be 8 hours of instruction a week, 9 hours for associate and assistant professors and 10 hours for lecturers.

If teacher's total weekly working time does not reach the stipulated weekly number of hours, it should be compensated within that specific academic year, if still insufficient, it shall be accumulated up to the total required amount. However, teachers who during the past two academic years complied with the teaching hours obligation stipulated in Article 4 of the Guidelines, shall compensate for that academic year's insufficient number of teaching hours.

Article 3. The required number of teaching hours for full-time teachers who carry out administrative tasks part-time shall be reduced as follows:

- (1) The designated weekly number of teaching hours for the Deputy President of the University, first-level administrative supervisors, first-level degree programs supervisors and heads of faculties shall be verified and reduced by 4 hours.

In principle, the instruction time of the Deputy President of the University, first-level administrative and degree programs supervisors, because of the needs related to the university administrative affairs, shall be reduced to teaching one course for each semester (the teaching time being of two hours or above); this reduction should be verified and approved by the department/institute stamp and the University President.

- (2) The teaching time of first-level scholastic deputy heads, first-level administrative deputy heads, second-level administrative heads, heads of research institutes, supervisors of degree programs, the Head of the Center for Education of the Si Wan College, organization's first-level supervisors in special inter-college centers and research centers or supervisors of any college internally established education centers(research, promotion centers) shall be reduced by two hours in respect to the designated weekly number of teaching hours for a specific position.
- (3) Those carrying out administrative tasks part-time should have their weekly teaching time further reduced by four hours. However, those, to whom this Article Section 1 Item 2 applies, through further verification and approval, shall have their teaching time reduced to one course (of two hours or above); the teaching time shall be further reduced to the stipulated number of hours.

- (4) Positions regulated by other related regulations, other than those mentioned above (not including university's supervisors of working groups and research centers) or those whose responsibilities are to be adjusted according to the university's development needs, shall have their project approved by the University President and have their case handled in accordance with the content of approval.

Article 4. The number of working hours of teachers teaching overtime or part-time shall be regulated as below:

- (1) Full-time teachers who were assigned teaching of degree program courses (this does not include advanced Master's Degree Program for Working Professionals and the International Business MBA) shall have their teaching time at the university and outside university not exceeding 4 hours a week in total, any overtime shall be considered voluntary.
- (2) The number of teaching hours of advanced Master's Degree Programs for Working Professionals does not count to the basic amount of the lecturer's teaching hours.
- (3) The amount of teaching hours for part-time teachers, who formerly held a public office, is limited to 4 hours a week.
- (4) Overtime hours are counted on a whole academic year basis, after the students have joined or dropped out of the course, approved once for 9 months.
- (5) During the period of summer vacation, full-time teachers are allowed to start teaching courses of 4 credits maximum, however, this does not apply if there is need to organize a course for the purposes of realizing a program of the Ministry of Education. The hourly wage per hour for teachers teaching during summer vacation shall be paid in accordance with the university's "Guidelines for Courses Starting During Summer Vacation", and hours taught during summer vacation do not count as basic amount of teaching hours for teachers.

Article 5. When determining the courses, a full-time teacher, in first priority, gives the courses that are required by the department (institute) and can make up the basic weekly teaching hours. The following calculation methods will apply if the basic weekly teaching hours cannot be made up after the students have added and dropped the courses, but the teaching hours that can be offset are accumulatively limited to 3 hours and the basic weekly teaching hours shall not be less than 3 hours after the offset.

- (1) An offset of 3 weekly teaching hours is allowed for PI of Ministry of Science and Technology on a case by case basis, and an offset of 2 weekly teaching hours is allowed for each case of other research projects. The accumulated hours every semester shall not be more than 3 hours for every teacher.
- (2) The teaching hours are reduced by 3 every semester for each new teacher during his/her first year at the university.
- (3) One-hour offset is given against the service-learning program which is not included in teaching hours for every semester.

Article 6. The number of students that take a course is the basis for determining the overtime pay. It will be calculated after the students (including the exchange students and the students from other universities who participate in the cross-university course election program) have joined or dropped out of the courses.

(1) Bachelor program:

1. A total of 10 students (including professional programs).
2. For a full-time teacher who teaches a Bachelor program course and 7, 8 or 9 students take the course, the overtime pay is determined in proportion to the number of the students.

(2) Institute program:

1. Lecture: A total of 3 graduate students (including professional Master program and third or above year of undergraduate courses of study).
2. Seminar: A total of 9 graduate students (including professional Master program and third or above year of undergraduate courses of study).

(3) English program:

1. Bachelor program: A total of 3 students.
2. Institute program: A total of 2 graduate students.

(4) Instructing one student teacher counts as 0.15 hour for teacher instructors at the Center for Teacher Education. An instructor is allowed to instruct student teachers at maximum.

(5) The lecture program specified in Section 2 of this article is applicable and used as a calculation criterion for the instruction in individual academic branches/areas and branches/internship areas of the Center for Teacher Education.

Article 7. Teaching hours are calculated as follows:

- (1) The teaching hours for each course are calculated according to the cause timetable of the course concerned. The teaching hours for practicum or lab experiments are calculated according to the cause timetable x 50%. The teacher must instruct the students personally. Otherwise, non-teaching hours will be incorporated into his/her accumulative hour records.
- (2) For the major, minor and tutorial courses, the teaching hours are determined according to the number of students listed in the cause timetable. (One student is equivalent to one hour for the major and tutorial courses, while one student is equivalent to 0.5 hour for the minor course.)
- (3) If more than 65 students (after combination of the classes, if any) take a specific course, 0.02 times the hourly pay will be added for an additional student up to 2 times.
- (4) For a seminar that is given in the form of “independent study”, all hours of the course are counted in the teaching hours of the teacher but not incorporated in the overtime hours.

- (5) For the All-English courses recommended by each college or given in the English program, the teaching hours are multiplied by 1.5 times. This is not applicable to the courses that foreign teachers give, professional courses given by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature (including the institute), non-lecture courses given by the institute, and the distance learning courses organized by individual departments (institute) in cooperation with international universities.
- (6) Teaching hours will be multiplied by 1.5 times for courses opened in coordination with Ministry of Education and Ministry of Science and Technology within the execution duration of the project after the approval of the dean of academic affairs and the president.

Specific courses opened for the project that may involve different calculations of teaching hours, may be carried out every semester within execution duration after the written consent from the dean of academic affairs and the president as special cases.

- (7) Teaching hours will be multiplied by 1.5 times for the recording and broadcasting of courses approved to be participating in the E-learning project of Ministry of Education, Ministry of Science and Technology, that is the university's e-learning programs or open courses of the university; besides other regulations of the Ministry of Education, 12 hours of course recording shall be equal to 1 credit (for recordings prior to the start of the courses, teaching hours may be calculated at the beginning of the semester). For courses that are approved as for credit hours and required to be recorded and broadcast during the semester, credit hours may be calculated for the following semester accordingly; credit hours for each course may only be calculated once.
- (8) Service courses with no credit hours, part-time teaching assistance and Master program internship courses will not count as teaching hours

Article 8. If the obligatory courses in the curriculum structure of each department/institute (center) have a significant effect on the achievements of its educational objectives, submission can be made to the dean and president for approval. Such courses are not subject to the previous article.

Article 9. A teacher who, for the development of the university, is arranged to give lessons at another university and does not receive the pay from the university where he/she gives the lesson, the teaching hours at that university will be incorporated into the teaching hours that he/she has accumulated at the original university.

Article 10. For teachers with deducted teaching hours and are compensated with differential pay, allowance or bonus, hourly pay will be given only when teaching hours exceed the basic teaching hour regulated in article 2.
